

Securities Disclosure Candidate Information Sheet

We are regulated globally in 18 jurisdictions, by regulators including the Securities and Exchange Commission in the US and the European Securities and Markets Authority in the EU. In addition, we are supervised by the International Organization of Securities Commissions.

We have a policy that seeks to mitigate conflicts of interest by monitoring and placing restrictions on personal securities trading. This Policy is designed to promote compliance with global regulations. Compliance with the Policy is required and is a condition of employment.

The extent of your restrictions will depend on your role and responsibilities. You will be Assigned a Securities Disclosure Profile based on two criteria:

- Your ability to influence products and services within your business.
- Your access to Material Non-Public Information, in fact or appearance, by virtue of your role and responsibilities.

Within 15 days of your start date, you & your Immediate Family¹ will be required to divest any restricted securities and move to a Designated Broker (if applicable).

Electronic Brokers are required in certain offices. S&P Global has arranged to receive automated electronic reports of Securities Holdings and transactions in accounts held with certain Electronic Brokers. If you work in a jurisdiction in which Electronic Brokers are available, then you and your immediate family members may be required to use these Electronic Brokers for your investment accounts. If you are not using an Electronic Broker, you are required to upload investment account statements to our GECS site.

You must get approval before executing trades. The approval process is done online, and it is designed to be quick and easy.

Short-Term Trading is prohibited. Employees or their Immediate Family may not profit from the trade of a Security within thirty (30) calendar days of the original trade. You may sell a Security at any time if the sale price is lower than the original purchase price.

Blind Trusts and Third-Party Discretionary accounts, in some cases, can be used to help address restrictions. Please let us know if you would like more information regarding these accounts.
